CASE STUDY

Dublin Dental University Hospital

DUBLIN DENTAL UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL
OSPIDÉAL DÉADACH
OLLSCOILE ÁTHA CLIATH

The Dublin Dental University Hospital have been utilising FingerPrint since 2019 to support their track and trace processes throughout their equipment lifecycle.

The Challenge: Before implementing FingerPrint, staff observed frequent errors during the decontamination cycle, leading to additional costs from having to resend equipment for cleaning.

The Solution: Their search for a digital solution to minimise manual errors and provide an easy-to-use, easy-to-learn system led them to Athera FingerPrint. From this solution, they gained:

Greater oversight and visibility of all equipment

Receiving automated alerts on expiry dates

Setting up custom KPIs to track throughout the process

Utilising detailed reporting tools

Identifying opportunities for improvement / training

Implementing quality improvement
plans

I've used many traceability systems in the past and FingerPrint is by far the most user-friendly system – it's so simple and easy to update, scan barcodes and see what's going on across the full cycle.”

Tracey Scott, CSSD Manager, Dublin Dental University Hospital

The Athera Healthcare Difference

Our Approach

We take a partnership approach – understanding our customers' unique needs and challenges and collaborating to create a robust, tailored solution with lasting impact.

Our Vision

We aim to set the standards of traceability in dental practice. We want to share that vision and determination by working with you – to drive progress, together.

Our Focus

Our detailed reporting systems go far beyond a single tray. We focus on the bigger picture, to deliver intelligence-driven platform integrations for the future.

Empowering healthcare organisations to drive progress, improve operational efficiency & enhance patient care

We are the national traceability supplier in the Health Service Executive (HSE) in Ireland and have enhanced communication and coordination across the entire organisation – in a partnership that extends over 15 years so far – as well as with various public and private entities across the UK.

We're dedicated to supporting Dental Hospitals, and other healthcare organisations, with comprehensive traceability and reliable inventory management.

Our Partnership Approach

We develop lasting and trusted relationships with our customers, combining our shared wealth of knowledge and experience with innovative technology, with your specific goals to propel progress and success within your healthcare teams.

You drive the change, we empower you to do so.
